

IT Consulting

As accountants with specialist IT skills, we are well placed to help you identify the key performance indicators for your business and to design tailored systems to meet your needs.

Our primary service is to assist you with improving your management reporting. This can be done in several ways: looking at nominal code structures; designing reports within accounting software; reviewing accounting procedures; linking to Microsoft products to increase flexibility or to create charts; providing data analysis tools; and most importantly training.

Our services include:

- Advice and assistance with supply of suitable software/hardware
- Review of current IT systems
- Setting up accounting software to improve management information
- Financial modelling and forecasting
- Linking software to Microsoft products for enhanced management reporting
- Supply and advice on the range of Sage software, including accounts and payroll

Non UK Businesses

For a non UK business wanting to set up operations in the UK, either as a branch or a separate legal entity, Rawlinsons offers a full range of services including advice and assistance on the following:

- How to set up and run a business in the UK
- Bookkeeping, payroll and VAT accounting, together with the provision of these services for the business if required
- Statutory obligations and company secretarial matters, including a full company secretarial and registered office service if required
- Recruitment and relocation of staff
- Locating premises for purchase or rent
- All aspects of taxation
